

Determiners

The determiners are the words that are used before noun to tell us the quantity (e.g a soldier, many soldiers, an ant etc.) or to clarify what the noun refers to (e.g that boy, my boy, a boy, the boy etc.).

Types

Articles	Possessives	Demonstratives	Quantifiers
A An The	My, Your, Our, His, Her, Its, Their	This That Those These	Some, Many, Much, More, Any

10 Examples

1. I was going to hills and saw a dangerous accident.
2. All the students were absent from the class.
3. Some of them are very generous.
4. Many girls attacked the naughty boy.
5. That was a heart touching incident.
6. The boy refused to marry her.
7. I have a lot of money but I am a little miser.
8. I want to visit her but her mother refused to talk her.
9. His foot was injured and the Doctor advise him to take bed rest.
10. These trees bring me in my past.